- 1. Please answer the following question in a well-written paragraph (please attach on a separate piece of paper).

Below you will find the description of the vision of Rural Mission, SC. Please explain to us your interest in participating in this service project. Why do you want to attend? What do you expect to “get” out of this.

Rural Mission, Inc. was founded in 1969 to foster, promote and minister to the spiritual, economic, social, educational, medical and housing needs of residents of the Sea Islands, serving Johns Island, Wadmalaw Island, Yonges Island and Edisto Island across religious and ethnic lines.

The Rural Mission Work Camp project requests volunteer groups to provide monetary resources, love, respect and sensitivity to the plight of families in need. The project also requires professional skilled construction group leaders and construction transportation vehicles to accomplish project objectives. The Work Camp project not only transforms the lives of families but also the lives of volunteers. Groups come from across the country for one week a year. Many colleges and universities use the Work Camp project to instill a sense of humanity and philanthropy through an educational, enriching experience.
